Lumens Announces New VC-A61P PTZ IP Camera

4K and 1080p resolution for AV over IP Solution

Hsinchu, Taiwan, September 25, 2019 – Lumens™ Digital Optics Inc., the global leader in the ProAV market, today introduced the VC-A61P, the latest addition to its Lumens PTZ IP camera series. The video camera is an upgrade from the previous models VC-A60S and VCA50P. With its 4K UHD ultra-clear video quality and a powerful 30x optical zoom capability, the camera can perfectly frame presenters and deliver outstanding detail and clarity to participants that are located far away. The VC-A61P also offers multiple interfaces such as Ethernet, HDMI, and 3G-SDI, which enhances the convenience in connectivity. Even with low light or the extreme contrast of brightness and darkness in a room, a clear image is delivered. This makes the camera excellent for capturing live events under any environment.

Due to the prevailing network infrastructure with IP technology, it has become easy to capture, encode process and distribute with any IP camera products. Lumens Dir. of Product Management, Steven Liang said, “Our new PTZ IP camera allows 4K real-time streaming and recording that offers users more flexibility on webcasting and simultaneously recording conferences, lectures, and live events than a conventional AV camera.” Through the Internet protocol and PoE technology, the VC-A61P can achieve the highest performance and cost-efficient installation for your AV over IP solution.

Availability

The VC-A61P PTZ IP camera is available now.
